LOTTERY AND KEY DATES

My School DC, in partnership with DCPS and the majority of DC public charter schools, makes it easier for students and families to apply to their public school options. Families use the My School DC application to apply to PK3 and PK4 programs at any public school (DCPS or charter), to out-of-boundary and citywide DCPS schools (PK3 - Grade 12), to DCPS selective high schools and programs (Grades 9-12), and to participating public charter schools (PK3 - Grade 12). Placement for new students at participating schools is determined by a single, random lottery. My School DC is a program of the Office of the State Superintendent of Education (OSSE)

To learn more about the lottery process, visit: www.myschooldc.org

To review key lottery and enrollment dates, please visit enrolldcps.dc.gov/keydates

KEY WORDS

Application high school and program: A DCPS high school or program that requires an application for entry into the school. There are two types of DCPS application high schools and programs.

Citywide School: A school that does not have a designated boundary and therefore cannot be claimed as an in-boundary/zoned school. Citywide schools can only be accessed through the lottery and do not provide guaranteed enrollment to any student/family. Ron Brown is the only DCPS citywide application high school.

Selective High School and Program: A DCPS high school or program that admits students based on specific eligibility criteria and requires application for entry into the school. All students eligible to enroll in grades 9-12 can apply, but only those who meet a selective high school's or program's requirements will be eligible to attend. DCPS selective high schools and programs have no boundaries and admit students based on specific criteria. Students applying to one or more DCPS selective high schools and programs must complete an additional section of the My School DC application. The additional section is different for each school or program because each school or program has its own requirements. DCPS has eight selective high schools and programs: Banneker, Bard DC, Columbia Heights Education Campus, Duke Ellington, Early College Academy at Coolidge High School, McKinley Tech, Phelps ACE, and School Without Walls High School.

Destination school (also feeder pattern school): A middle, high, or education campus school that a student has a right to attend based on the student completing the terminal grade at an elementary or middle school during the previous school year.

In-boundary school (also neighborhood school or zoned school): A school that a student has the right to attend based on a student's home address. To identify your student's in-boundary school, visit enrolldcps.dc.gov/node/41

My School DC application: An online application families must use to apply to all DCPS preschool (PK3) and prekindergarten (PK4) programs, DCPS out-of-boundary and citywide schools (PK3 - Grade 12), DCPS selective high schools and programs (Grades 9-12), and participating public charter schools (PK3 - Grade 12).

My School DC Lottery: A single, random lottery that determines placement for new students at all participating schools.

NAF College & Career Academy: A DCPS career education program that includes a strong student and teacher support structure, college and industry partnerships, career-focused internships, and rigorous curricula that culminates in industry-recognized certifications.

Out-of-boundary school: A school other than a student's in-boundary or feeder pattern school.

ANACOSTIA

"Greatness is not derived from a school's name or reputation. It's the students, staff, and community that make Anacostia High School great, day in and day out."
— Kadeem, Class of 2019

Why Anacostia High School?

At Anacostia Senior High School, we are proud to be the heartbeat of Southeast, Washington, DC. Our vision is to equip and empower all students with the social, emotional, and cognitive skills they need to dismantle oppressive systems and thrive in their local and global communities. We know learning happens best when it is connected to the world outside of school. Thus, we are a Project-Based Learning (PBL) school, partnered with New Tech Network. Our students begin their career academies starting in 9th grade. Through PBL and career academies, our students will learn 21st century technological and employability skills and engage in authentic learning experiences. Partnerships with families are critical to student success. Thus, every incoming 9th grader will have a Dream Team Captain who works directly with the student and their family to help them navigate high school. Our connected school manager is also available to provide additional support to students and families. We prepare students to dismantle systems of inequity through nurturing, challenging, relevant, and joyful learning experiences. We aim to empower students to be self-aware, critical thinkers that are stewards of the community who positively influence the world. Anacostia is proud to serve every student, every day through equity, excellence, and opportunity!

BALLOU

"As a student at Ballou, I explored the world and became a global citizen through DCPS' Study Abroad Program in Senegal. I also earned a Guest Services Certification through our NAF Distinguished Academy of Hospitality and Tourism. In my senior year, I participated in American University's Dual Enrollment Program, where I studied Education and Schools in Society. I'm proud to say that this fall I'll be attending American University on a full-ride scholarship as an AU District Scholar, studying Computer Science. Ballou prepared me for life after high school and it made me into a better man." — Desmond, Class of 2020

Why Ballou Senior High School?

Frank W. Ballou Senior High School offers a myriad of academic and extracurricular programs that enrich the mind, body, and spirit of its students. When students begin their journey at Ballou, they may choose from one of four Career Academy Pathways. Throughout their journey, students may take over 15 Advanced Placement and Honors courses, explore over 40 unique national and community partner organizations, and participate in over 25 extracurricular clubs and athletic sports programs to ensure that they are ready for life during and after high school. When students graduate from Ballou, they may have earned a specialized diploma, industry certifications based on their pathway, have traveled abroad, and have gained real-world experience through a paid internship. Our graduates attend college, in 20 different states across 30 universities, earning over $1.8 million in scholarships. Eligible Ballou graduates are partnered with a DCPS Persists Coach who supports them in navigating the academic, financial, and student resources available on their college campus during their first 2-years. WILSON

"I love Wilson for so many reasons that it is hard to list them all. First of all, Wilson offers its students numerous activities and classes that there ends up being something for everyone no matter what they are interested in. Personally, my favorites have been student government and The Beacon, our school newspaper, as they have allowed me to be highly involved with both the student body and administration. Another reason I love Wilson is the people. As I leave for college, I know that I will never be in an environment like Wilson, in which you can meet people from all backgrounds and learn about their life experiences. My four years at Wilson have not only prepared me academically but also equipped me with self-advocacy, something I am genuinely thankful for and will be incredibly useful in the future." — Ethan, Class of 2019

Why Wilson High School?

Wilson High School is the District of Columbia's largest and most diverse comprehensive high school. More than 90 percent of Wilson graduates attend college in 40 states and three countries and 2019 graduates were collectively offered over $33 million in scholarships. Wilson offers nearly 30 AP courses and 13 honors courses. In 2011, Wilson underwent a complete modernization and was later honored as a Green Ribbon School with LEED Gold certification. Wilson is proud to offer seven academic and career academies, including SciMaTech, Finance and the Academy of Hospitality and Tourism.
